

Service: Technical Event Management

We plan a technical event, where the technical content should be the center. Who does that, we can advise me?

You plan an event where technology should be in the forefront. You want to market technology or a technological conference bringing experts in the field together.

You want set a strong technological emphasis!

That's our native language. TEMAS AG specializes in planning and implementing of events for our customers, where technology is centered, such as in the past for universities like the ETH.

We love to accept your requests: Starting with the invitation to complete correspondence, to location, catering and security, to contracts, content, presentations, workshops and discussion panels.

We live in the world of technology and use it as well:

- Video conference to have other participants be able to participate digitally,
- Web panels to let people participate at the event from around the world,
- Use of tablets to transmit information and / or opinion surveys.
- And for whatever other ideas you have in mind.

We know the hurdles such as a Bluetooth controlled projector which transmission can be disrupted by all these smartphones, data scramble and much more, where you just simply need a professional who knows what they are doing.

We would like to give you more information. Can we reach out to you?
